MISCELLANEOUS.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Wm. P. Marshall, of Logansport, Indiana, writes: "My wife has for many years been troubled from pain in her back and general debility incident to her sex. She has taken one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, and I can truthfully say that she has been so much benefited that she pronounces it the only remedy of many medicines she has tried."

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

OUR NATIONAL HOLIDAY.

A writer in Harper's Mrgazine says of the day we celebrate: In fact, the second of July and not the Fourth should be the day for the celebration of our independence. That it would be was the opinion of the prominent men of that day. On the morning of the 1st of July, John Adams, anticipating independence in that day's vote, wrote from Pennsylvania to Archibald Bullock, "May heaven prosper the new-born republic, and make it more glorious than any former republics have been!" And on the 3d, after the adoption of the resolution of independence, he wrote to his wife, Mrs. Adams, as follows: "Yesterday the greatest question was decided which ever was debated in America; and a greater, perhaps, never was nor will be decided among men. That will live as truth among all Americans who know and value the history of their country." And in the course of the same letter he adds, "The second day of July, 1776, will be the most memorable epoch in the history of America. I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival; be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bonfires and illuminations from one end of the continent to the other, from this time forward for evermore.

If, however, it be asked how it has come to pass that the 4th of July has been substituted as the real birthday of the United States, the answer is that the resolution of the second was passed in private session, and remained unknown to the people generally until it and the declaration were publicly proclaimed together.

The official record of the momentous proceedings of the 2d is in these words:

TUESDAY, July 2, 1776.

The Congress resumed the consideration of the resolution from the Committee of the Whole, which was agreed to, as follows:

Resolved, That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all the political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved.

There was nothing in the phrasing of the resolution to cause it to live in the popular memory, whilst there was everything in the Declaration to give it a vital hold upon the affections of the American people. But there was still another cause for this. It has been well said that "the great importance, the decisive and controlling character of the Resolution of Independence adopted on the 2d of July, 1776, have been obscured to the popular vision by the splendor and fame of Jefferson's immortal declaration of the reasons for the adoption of that Resolution. Yet Jefferson himself never allowed the one to overshadow in his estimation the importance of the other. The declaration in his mind was intended to be 'an appeal to the tribunal of the world' as a justification of what had already been done. It was intended, he says, 'to be an expression of the American mind, and to give that expression the proper tone and spirit called for by the occasion, to place before mankind the common sense of the subject in terms so plain and firm as to command their assent.' Yet the Declaration of Independence has dislodged the Resolution of Independence from the place of precedence in the popular mind, and the Fourth of July has displaced the second as the nation's holiday and the patriot's high festival.

A Distillery Destroyed.

GIBSONVILLE, Pa., June 22.

The warehouses numbers 2 and 3, attached to John Gibson & Son's distillery, together with the contents, 1,000 barrels of whisky, were totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire started from a lamp exploding in the hands of Wm. H. Neil, and before the flames could be controlled they had spread to number 3, and both were entirely consumed. Neil was badly burned, and will probably die. The loss is estimated at $50,000, on which there is a large insurance. News of the fire spread quickly, and soon people from the surrounding country were on the ground and doing everything possible to check the flames. About 5 o'clock a second explosion occurred, and a large number of persons, who persisted in getting close to the burning buildings, were more or less injured.

WASHINGTON, June 22.

Hill again took the stand, and testified that he did not show the Secretary of the Treasury the letter charging him with bribery, but reported the same verbally. Coleman, attorney for the prosecution, asked for an expert to assist him in examining contracts at the St. Louis Postoffice, claiming that extensive frauds existed there. Hill's attorney objected; the Chairman said, "Finish the investigation of the Philadelphia contracts before taking up the St. Louis or other points."

Parties going on the Fourth of July excursion to San Francisco had better apply for tickets at once, as there are only a few more left.

About 40 Renoites intend going on Mulcahy's Fourth of July excursion to Santa Cruz and Monterey, which leaves here on the 2d of July, returning on the 12th.

The character and variety of the goods they keep cannot be surpassed; no better goods in the various grades can be found anywhere, while but few establishments in the State present as varied an assortment. Their facilities for buying at low price are such as no house with a small trade can possibly enjoy. The public will find it advantageous to trade with F. Levy & Bro.

What better evidence can one ask of a merchant than to know that he has been doing business for 12 or 14 years in one place and that his business has steadily increased all the time? John Sunderland has been in Reno since 1868 and has supplied nearly the whole of western Nevada with boots and shoes since that time. He carries one of the largest stocks of any dealer on the coast and gives his customers every advantage of his long experience in the business. *

REFRESHING SLEEP.

Good Advice To Fathers And Mothers Who Insist On The "Early Bird" Fallacy.

If there is any cruelty which can be called refined, it is the pulling of a child out of bed before it has had its sleep out. Yet there are fathers and mothers who would resent the charge of cruelty, that are daily in the habit of arousing the children from sweet sleep, that is quite as necessary for the health of children as food. If the child is inclined to sleep beyond the hours necessary for school or business, send it to bed earlier. The deprivation of sleep is laying the foundation for numerous nervous diseases in after life. Sound, refreshing sleeping is a storing up of vitality, of the ability to be useful. It is also a security against the attacks of disease by giving the system a greater power of resistance. When a child sleeps less than nine hours out of the twenty-four, something is wrong that requires immediate attention. When men or women sleep less than eight hours a day they are wearing out. It is all folly to deny one's self the advantages of sleep. It is the meanest of all wrongs, the wrong done to one's self. It is true man was made for work, and in order that he can accomplish it, he should economize his nervous force. We all recollect that the man who was out at sunrise in the Summer or before daylight in the Winter, who aroused his family at 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, and ate breakfast by candle-light. We remember him as failing when he should have been in his prime. The thin, pallid wife, old, listless, with no fun in her, all through the mistaken notion that time spent in sleep was lost. The wakeful and restless are the ones to wear out first. Let the little folks sleep as late in the morning as they please and they will be "healthy, wealthy and wise.

JUPITER.

He will Shortly Close his Engagement as Evening Star.

Jupiter is the evening star. He makes his last appearance for the present in that role. Even before the month closes he will be so near the sun as to be hidden by his rays. He has already appeared brighest and best, but he will be seen in diminished glory every glowing twilight night until June goes out. It will be interesting to watch his departing glory, and as night after night his stay above the horizon lessens, and he draws closer to the luminary he so closely resembles. While the other planets hide their dimished heads as they approach the central orb, Jupiter and Venus dare to shine on the threshhold of his sanctuary. The two brightest planets are now nearly the same apparent distance from the sun.—Jupiter as evening star on his eastern side, and Venus as morning star on his western side. Never has the prince of planets put on more attractive aspect than the one that has made brilliant the course he is now completing from his last opposition to his approaching conjunction. for his path has led through a portion of the heavens studded with the brighest stars that adorn the firmament. When more than a year hence he appears under similar conditions—that is, near conjunctaon—the bright galaxy of stars that have added to the splendor of his court, will be below the horizon and he will reign comparatively alone.

The N. & O. Railroad.

The N. & O. engine, Santa Cruz, has been thoroughly repaired and put in first class condition for the rail. She made her first trip to the "front" to-day with Charles McNally at the throttle and Nate Kendall as conductor. Regular daily trains will now be run as far as Oneida; close connections with the C. P. trains will be made.

Steamboat Springs.

There will be a church picnic at at Steamboat Springs on Saturday. The park is now in fine condition for pleasure seekers. The poplar trees are well leaved out, the springs are just hot enough to be comfortable, and altogether there are many inducements for those who desire to enjoy themselves for an hour or two.

A Hint to Stock Men.

A farmer in Iowa estimates that the profit of raising one 2-year-old shorthorn steer for market is equal to that of 18 scrub steers, which have to be kept three years or more before they are salable. Grade up with thoroughbred bulls and let scrub stock grow where they can afford them as relics.

An Old Pioneer in Luck.

An old miner named Billy Minser, who has worked on various streams in Butte county since '49 or '50, is reported by the Chico Record to have struck a pocket in Butte Creek and washed out $6,000. He got the whole amount in a day or two, the pocket was then exhausted.

This dread disease is now very distructive among the young stock on the Last Chance range, between Genessee and Honey Lake valley's. The stock men are moving out most of their young cattle; feed is good and older cattle and dairy cows are doing well.

OUR GIRLS.

The Chances for Them to Earn a Living are Increasing.

Other things being equal, a woman can find profitable work to do as easily as an industrious man. In fact, no change of recent years is more noticeable than the enlargement of what used to be called "woman's sphere." The "sphere" is no longer merely the nursery and the school room, but the whole globe, bless you. The increase is strikingly shown by a comparison of the last three census. In 1860 only 270,897 women and girls were employed in manufactures in the United States; in 1870 this number had become 323,770, and in 1880, 531,639. The manufacture of artificial feathers gives employment to over 3,000 women; 4,000 are engaged in book binding, at which only 5000 men are employed; 25,000 work in shoe factories; 80,000 manufacture men's clothes professionally, in addition to the millions who do this kind of work at their own homes. It is somewhat surprising that more women are engaged in making men's clothes for the market than in making women's clothes, the latter being only 22,000 in the United States; 2000 women—and surely it is very proper—get a living by making confectionery; 1200—as is also very proper—make twine; and 700 (which would surely be improper for men) are engaged in making corsets. The census shows that 217 make fireworks and explosives and 20 make gunpowder.

Nothing builds up shattered constitutions so quickly as Brown's Iron Bitters.

The Dude.

The "anti-dude" girl gives the following well condensed definition:

A too-too glove,
Of yellow hue;
A stovepipe hat;
A toothpick shoe;
A stylish coat;
A languid drawl;
A watch so big;
A cane so small;
A "sweet" moustache;
A pompadour;
A "dude" is this,
And nothing more.

Northern Emigration.

Three wagons, well filled with families and house-hold goods, went north this morning, seeking homes in that rapidly growing country.

Thanks.

The Lodge of I. O. G. T. return a vote of thanks to J. F. Aitken for the assistance he rendered in managing the late picnic at Steamboat.

A Nevdans Venture.

It is reported that Geo. W. Lyons, ex-Governor Kinkead's Private Secretary, has purchased a half interest in the Seattle Post and Intelligencer, the consideration being $12,000. The Col. must have struck a friend.

Questionable Amusement.

As the west bound emigrant train was pulling out from the depot last evening, the head locomotive ran onto a "danger" torpedo, surreptitiously obtained and laid on the track by some boys who seemed to enjoy the surprise of the train men.
